Information Regarding Dilating Eye Drops

Dilating drops are used to dilate or enlarge the pupils of the eye to allow the ophthalmologist to get a better view of the inside of your eye. Your eyes will be dilated each visit here.

Dilating drops temporarily blur vision for a length of time which varies from person to person and may make bright lights bothersome. It is not possible for your ophthalmologist to predict how long your vision will be affected. Driving may be difficult after examination; therefore, it is best that you make arrangements for someone to drive you to and from your appointment.

Adverse reactions, such as acute angle-closure glaucoma, may be triggered from the dilating drops. This is extremely rare but can be treated with immediate medical attention.

I hereby authorize Dr.'s Rachal, Elison, and Doss and/or such assistants that may be designated by him/her to administer dilating eye drops that are necessary to diagnose my condition.

☐ I understand that my eyes will be dilated each visit unless stated otherwise by personnel.
